Description of the program: NSS Unit of P.S.V College of Engineering & Technology organized Blood camp on 23-12-2021, around 56 students and faculties participated and donated their blood. Blood donation is important because the blood drawn can be used to save lives and other medical treatments. It revitalizes the health of a person. With the increasing no. of unknown diseases, people should be aware of the fact that in most life-threatening situations, the only solution that a doctor has is they can keep the person alive by transferring blood. This may help to increase the probability of saving his life and give a chance to the doctor to treat him well. Blood donation is very important and people should motivate each other to do this good deed and serve humanity. You may save someone's life and their family by donating blood.
